

Eugene A. Bloom, 45

WOODBINE - Eugene A. Bloom, 45, publisher of the Woodbine Twiner and Logan Herald-Observer died suddenly at his home of a heart attack on July 3. Services were July 6 at the First Christian Church, Woodbine.

He is survived by his wife, Karen; sons, Mark and Greg and a daughter, Sarah; his parents, Jerry and Arlene of Logan; two brothers and one sister. He moved to Woodbine in 1980 to assist his father in the family newspapers and took over ownership in 1990.

He was very active in his church, in his community and the Iowa Newspaper Assoc. serving on numerous boards and committees.