

Scott Graham - 56

Aug. 15, 1950 - Aug. 7, 2007 ✓

SHELBY — Scott David Graham was born Aug. 15, 1950 in Omaha, NE, son of Marshall and Joyce (Wilkins) Graham, and was one of three children in the family. At the age of three, he was struck with polio but was able to overcome his disability and led a very productive life. He attended school at Franklin Elementary and Omaha Central High School and graduated with the class of 1968. While in high school he was a member of the Reserve Officers Training Corp.

Scott married Diosdada Tomoric July 2, 1990, in Council Bluffs. They are the parents of two daughters, Arrienne and Alexa. The family has lived in the Shelby area since 1990. He was employed by Creighton University in the Holter Lab for 15 years reading tapes created by EKG monitors. He then worked as a technical support person for the Sprint Telephone Company. In recent years, Scott has worked part-time at Myrtue Medical Center where he also scanned tapes created from the Holter monitors. He died Aug. 7, 2007, at Myrtue Medical Center at age 56 years, 11 months and 23 days.

Scott is preceded in death by his parents. He is survived by his wife, Diosdada; and their daughters, Arrienne and Alexa, all of Shelby; his brother, Gary Graham (Cheryl) of Omaha, NE; his sister, Robyn O'Driscoll (Ron) of Buffalo, WY; nieces and nephews, Mikeal Loneman (Jerry) of Plattsmouth, NE; Jeff Beasley of Council Bluffs; Katie Graham and Christopher Graham, both of Omaha, NE; great nieces and nephews, Ashley, Brianna, Amanda, Sydney and Andre'; and other relatives.

Funeral services were held Aug. 10, 2007, at Pauley Jones Funeral Home in Avoca, with Father John Frost celebrating. Casket bearers were Gary Graham, Jeff Beasley, Jerry Lomema, Ron O'Driscoll, John Bolton and Craig Botter.
